Location

The most fashionable address in Paris, takes its name from avenue George V. A stone's throw from the city's most fabulous landmarks—the Arc de Triomphe, Place de la Concorde and the Eiffel Tower—the hotel is located just off the Champs-Élysées.

Charles de Gaulle Airport is located 25 km (15 miles) from the Hotel as well as Orly Airport, 15 km (9.3 miles) from the Hotel.

Accommodation

- 245 rooms including 59 suites
- 100 connecting rooms
- Bulgari toiletries

The guestrooms are resplendent with Parisian flair, some with furniture in the style of Louis XVI, all with modern bathrooms of polished marble, and with separate showers and tubs. Each room also features the most cutting-edge telecommunications and entertainment technology.

Dining

Four Seasons Hotel George V, Paris is also renowned for its fine dining. Its centrepiece restaurant, Le Cinq, is rewarded two Michelin stars. Executive Chef Eric Briffard creates an authentic French menu delivered to tables in a sophisticated and intimate dining room. Other dining options include La Galerie and the Terrace (from May to September weather permitting)

SPA

Classic French style is also ever-present in the decoration of the spa reminiscent of Marie Antoinette's boudoir. The Spa offers beauty and relaxation treatments carried out with expert care and was voted best hotel Spa in Europe by Travel and Leisure for the last 3 years in a row. The spa offers products from Sodashi, Carita and L. Raphael.

Concierge

The 18 concierges of the Four Seasons Hotel George V deliver an excellent and insightful service. Roderick Levéjac Chef Concierge & Past President of Les Clefs d'Or—France and his team are at your disposal for any request.

Children at the Hotel

In a hotel as luxurious and elegant, families and children are given exemplary service too. The Four Seasons Hotel George V has been voted favorite hotel in Europe for families by readers of Travel + Leisure magazine in the 2009 World's Best Awards. Furthermore we offer a dedicated in-house Recreations Manager to take care of family requests.
